Archive of American Folk Song Music February 25, 1943

On the invitation of President Horace Bond, of the Fort Valley State College, Fort Valley, Georgia, the Archive of American Folk Song has been asked to cooperate with the College in making recordings of an army show to be staged in connection with the Fourth Annual Negro Folk Festival at Fort Valley, on March 5, 6, and 7. The importance of the event may be gauged by the fact th e at Time magazine is scheduled to publish a prevue of the show in its forthcoming issue.

Since the College has its own recording machine and the Library has been requested to furnish only bank discs and cutting needles, and since this is an unusual opportunity to forward our war-time program of recording soldiers' songs and other folkloristic and documentary material growing out of the war, I recommend that these recordings be acquired in accordance with the following budget:

50 12-inch discs at 80 cents $ 40.00

50 duplicates at $2.00 100.00

4 sapphire cutting needles 20.00

Shipping 20.00

$180.00

Laboratory handling charge 36.00

$216.00
